About us.

Velvet Armor System is a company responsible for production of elements of protection, tactical equipment and equipment for landfills. Velvet Armor System specialists are particularly enthusiastic about their business: the company originates as a volunteer movement, producing products and giving them to the military free of charge.

Over the long years of our work, we have found an effective approach to the production of specialized products for real men, which allows us to adequately represent our products in an economic competitive space.

Our advantages

Development of innovations.

Unlike our competitors, we do not use ready-made solutions, but we are looking for the optimal version of production, which greatly improves the quality of products and makes it possible to manufacture parts of any level of complexity.

Acceptable prices.

The use of modern technology significantly reduces the cost of the product while maintaining its quality.

Responsible relation.

The company's specialists love their work and try to make it as good as possible.

Individual approach.

The client who applies to us can order the manufacture of unique uniforms in accordance with their own needs.

We are sure that our cooperation will be long and useful!

Materials and technologies.

The basic rule of our company is "Do for others as for yourself".
Based on this philosophy, we use advanced materials and technologies to obtain consistent quality and innovation indicators.

Basic materials and technologies Velmet LLC:

Hypalon™ is a polyethylene elastomer polychlorosulfate patented by DuPont. It differs from its analogues with exceptional resistance to abrasion, strength and elasticity, resistance to ultraviolet radiation, retains its properties at low temperatures.

CORDURA® (the registered trademark of certified nylon from INVISTA) is a thick nylon fabric with a special thread structure, with a polyurethane or acrylic coating.

CORDURA® NYCO fabric based on cotton and nylon T420 from INVISTA. The material is made using rip-stop technology used by our company for sewing military uniforms. Differs in high durability, comfort of use and has relative resistance to maintenance of burning.

Velmet Plastix is own production of plastic elements of tactical equipment. Our company uses high-quality raw materials to obtain indicators of mechanical stability in a large temperature range.

Laser CUT is a technology for cutting and making-out materials which uses a high-power laser. This technology is commonly used at Velmet production to obtain an accurate and reliable formation of equipment components.

Velmet ARM550 is steel with a balanced combination of impact strength and hardness produced by the technology developed at our company. We use this material for targets manufacturing.

MaWka is a perspective development of a universal camouflage pattern. The basis of this pattern is the patented principle of zonal blurring of the silhouette.

TACTICAL CLOTHING

Velmet Armor System's tactical clothing: comfortable, practical, durable!

Zewana X-1 Combat Shirt

This Combat Shirt will be an indispensable element of combat protective clothing for special missions conducting.

The shirt is made from two types of materials: the main one (on the front and back) - durable, breathable knitted fabric 95/5 nylon/spandex; sleeves material - durable, Rip-Stop reinforced, air-permeable fabric 50/50 nylon/cotton (NYCO).

Zewana X-1 Combat Pants

Combat Pants from the Ukrainian brand "VELMET" are designed for combination of maximum protection level, functionality and comfort. The pants are made from three types of materials: main - durable, Rip-Stop reinforced, air-permeable fabric 50/50 nylon/cotton (NYCO); elastic inserts above the knees and the upper back - durable, breathable knitted fabric 95/5 nylon/spandex; inserts on the knee area and on the bottom of the pants - fabric with the highest level of abrasion resistance 70/30 nylon/cotton. Non-removable, elastic knee pads, manufactured by own technology, with a high level of protection against punctures and other physical effects.
